

NEW COUNTRY PRIDE CAMP

New Country Pride Camp Pricing 2025

What is Sliding Scale? Sliding Scale is a pricing model that allows you to select your New Country Pride Camp tuition rate based on your family's net income and financial circumstances.

Why this model? One of our long-term goals is to increase financial accessibility to all our programs as part of our commitment to equity. For the third summer, we are again instituting a trust-based model of sliding scale tuition. This model allows families to pick their tuition price from provided options. We are asking families with more financial means to pay more than the standard price, allowing families with less financial means to send their children to NCPC at a tuition rate that works with their personal financial experience.

How does pricing work*? You will be able to choose from multiple tuition options above or below standard pricing that will populate based on your family's total household income. You can pick any of the prices and payment plans offered, no questions asked.

Tuition options will be available during enrollment. If the lowest price point still does not work for your family, please reach out to our team! Our goal is to include everyone, regardless of financial circumstances.*

2025 Tuition

How are tuition prices determined? New Country Pride Camp's standard price per session is $2400. Standard prices reflect what it costs for us to run the program, including paying our staff, transportation, high-quality programs, guest speakers, operating our pools/facilities, providing lunch, snacks, towels, and more.

How do I know what price to pick? We ask that you think about your personal financial experience and your family's financial means. If you are able to pay more than this price, you are increasing access to camp for families with less financial means.

If I select a higher price point, is any of my tuition tax-deductible? Yes! Any amount you pay above the $2,400 base price per session for New Country Pride Camp Summer 2024 is tax-deductible. Email our team for a donation receipt.
